There will be twenty-nine vacancies in the House on the 4th of March, from the States of California, Connecticut, Kentucky, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Tennessee. New Hampshire has her election on the second Tuesday of March, and will send three republicans. Connecticut elects four members (probably all republicans) on the first Monday in April. On the first Wednesday in April Rhode Island chooses two republicans. Kentucky has ordered a special election on the 4th of May, and of her nine members not more than two is also a vacancy in the New York delagation, occasioned by the elevation of Roscoe Conkling to the Senatorship. No special election has yet been ordered, but there is no doubt of the election of a staunch republican to Mr.

Alexander W. Bradford, after a statement to him of the facts, which advice I verily believe to be true, that the said Ann Maris Forman died intestate, without leaving any valid and operative last will and testament, unless it be a will executed in 1850, which was found cancelled; that said deceased was a married woman, and was at or immediately previous to her death, an inhabitant of the county of New York. And I pray that letters of administration may be sranted on the estate of said deceased by the Surrogate of the county of New York to ms.

The will, of course, was offered for probate, and a todicos trial commenced. The question as to the validity of the will and Mrs. Forman's sanity at the time it was executed has already occupied the attention of the Surrogate two years. A voluminous mass of testimony has been adduced per and con, and no effort has been spared by the counsel on either side to get at all the facts, regardless of time or expense. The decision will be looked for with great interest.

United State vs. One Still and Other Property.—This was an action for the condemnation of a still and its appurtenances, belonging to Mr. James Lynch, whose establishment, corner of Bridge and Front streets, was seized in January last. Lynch, it appears, had been making false entries upon his books, and had largely increased the capacity of his still, without notifying the revenue authorities. The jury returned a verdict yesterday afternoon in favor of the government, thereby condemning the property, which is valued at $5,200.

Supreme Court—Special Term.

Gustave Baer vs. Herman Dute.—The plaintiff sues to recover the sum of $10,000 and costs for an alleged libel upon his character by defendant. The complaint states upon his character by defendant. The complaint states that, on the 12th of January, defendant placed in the window of his store at No. 12ti Grand street, Eastern District, a picture representing a woman in the act of striking a man, to which was affixed the inscription. "G. Baer, 198 Grend street," thereby meaning plaintiff. In his answer Date states that the picture is a true one; that it was puclished in the Police Gastie in August, 1865, together with what purported to be a report of the cowhiding of Baer in his store by one Miss Minnie Phaleso, on the 20th day of that month. These he regarded as mitigating facts.

Henry Suydam vs. John Smith.—This was an appeal March, 1866, in an action brought by plaintiff against defendant, before Justice Stillwell, of Gravesend. Plaindefendant, before Justice Stillwell, of Gravesend. Plaintiff suid to recover for moneys collected by defendant on the Flatbush plank road after that road had been ordered to be thrown open by the inspector. Smith was the tell gatherer, and, as claimed, had collected toll fifteen different times from Suydam subsequent to that order. The jury rendered judgment for $140 and costs is favor of plaintiff, when defendant appealed to the County Court. All the testimony was submitted yesterday, and the case adjourned until next week, when the arguments of course will be heard. There were some fifteen other actions against Smith to recover for collection of tell money by him after the road was ordered closed, the plaintiffs in which obtained judgments for different amounts. All these were appealed from, but it is understood that the case of Suydam has been agreed upon as a test case. The manner of its disposition will apply to the others.

DUR UTICA CORRESPONDENCE.

The Roberts Utica Convention.
Utics, Feb. 25, 1867.
The Convention of the Roberts party, which met here on Tuesday, is considered by its organizers to have been a complete success as far as the unanimity that pre-mine that earnest work of a sangunary nature will be put in operation at no very distant just. The delegates, for the most part, appeared a well to do, respectable class of men, intensely devoted to their particular object, and evidently not to be thwarted by the prospect of the formidable obstructions in their way.

The Committee on Credentials met on Tuesday morning in the City Hall, which was given by the Mayor of Ulica for the occasion, and after thoroughly investigating the claims of each delegate for admission a recess of an hour was taken for dinner. In the afternoon at two o'clock Prosident Roberts made a lengthy speech explanatory of the present position of the organisation, its numbers and efficiency, and the financial support received during the past year. A short debate ensued as to the most effective way of rendering each circle available for pecuniary said or service in the field at a moment's notice. It was decided to pass a resolution, to be sent to cach circle in the country, requiring a prompt report to be made to headquarters in New York city.

On Wednesday morning the Convention assembled at half-rast eight o'clock. Captain Peter Canslingham was elected temporary charman. The large meeting room in the City Hall was handsomely decorated with flags, emblems and evergreens. Over the platform, in white letters on a green ground, was the inscription, "Irelandher onemies are my enemies; her friends are my friends." Three flags were placed at one end of the room, representing the goddess of Eria, a portrait of Robert Emmet, and a harp and sunburst. The business on Wednesday orocaed with a statement from each delegate of the financial condition of his circle. The general report was considered entirely satisfactory. Delegates from Canada ware admitted and become the objects of particular attention. It is said their report of the state of the erganization scress the border surpassed the most snapath experience of the first manner of the convention of the other side of the border stores of arm and ammu

Adjournment of the Convention in This City.
The Fenian convention which has been in session in this dity during the last few days reassembled yesterday morning. P. W. Gronin, of Massachusetts, the President of the convention, occupied the chair. The proceedings of the convention were very harmonious, all the delegates were animated with a desire to keep the organisation alive.

Owing to the large subscriptions which have been recoved from delegates and direles, it is expected that the Brotherhood will soon be in a position to send material and to their brothers in Iroland. The greater part of yenischerhood will soon be in a position to send material and to their brothers in Iroland. Forman will case was commenced yesterday by Mr. Reynolds on the part of the contestants, and ex-Judge Florrepont on belialf of the proponents. Ex-Surrogate Brasford, on behalf of the contestants, will make the closing argument, which will take place on Tuesday next. The Forman will case has been noticed on more than one occasion in the columns of this newspaper; but the cause is an interesting one and the facts will bear repetition. Anna Haria Forman was the only daughter by his first wife of Mr. George Sutton, a gentleman of fortune, and for many years a resident of this city, who died in July, 1855. Some time before his death Mr. Shitton gave his daughter by deed and conveyance the bulk of his real estate, and on his death left her the residue of his property by will. On the 28th of March, 1861, Anna Maria married Mr. Kros R. Forman, she being then in her forty-whird year. With Mr. Forman she lived tentre years, until March 28, 1863, the anniversary of her wedding day, when he removed her to a private insain against a Flush by, Long Island, where she died two years afterwards. Upon her death it was discovered that she had made a win, dated February 27, 1862—a year of more before she entered the asplun—dischalle she cut her meaband on with the pality sum of $1,000, and bequeathed the remainder of her property, valued at $20,000 cr more, to some distinct relatives and charitable institutions. Each days after the death of Mrs. Forman, of the city of New York, being duly swern and examined, do depose and say—Thut at the time of her dant I was the bushand of the said deceased; that said deceased the day had a leand, on the 27th day of February, at June land, on the 27th day of February, at June land, and died pose the land of the said deceased; that said deceased died a natural death, and died pose
